LIFE'S SUNNY SPOTS. BY W. LEGGETT.

Though life's a dark and thorny path, Its goal the silent tomb. It yet some spots of sunshine hath, That smile amidst the gloom; The friend who weal and wee partakes, Unchanged whate'er our lot. Who kindly soothes the heart that aches:

Is sure a sunny spot.

She's too a sunny spot.

That child's a sunny spot.

The wife, who half our burden bears, And utters not a moan; Whose ready hand wipes off our tears; Unheeded all her own; Who treasures every kindly word, Each harsher one forgot. And carols lightly as a bird-

The child who lifts at m rn and eve In prayer its tinny voice; Who grieves whene'er its parents griev And joys when they rejoice: In whose bright eye young genius glows, Whose heart without a blot, Is fresh and pure as summer's rose-

There's yet upon life's weary road One spot of brighter glow, Where sorrow half forgets its load, And tears no longer flow: Friendship may wither, love decline, Our child dishonor blot; But still undim'd that spot will shine Religion lights that spot.
